Centrelink/Family Assistance

The following is a brief description of the various Social Security and Family Assistance benefits available. This is not an exhaustive list, so individuals should seek advice on the benefits they think they might be eligible for.

| Payment                   | General explanation  |
|---------------------------|--|
| Family Tax Benefit part A | Not subject to assets test   |
|                           | Income test applies unless recipient or partner is also in recipient ofCentrelink/DVA Payments   |
|                           | Paid to parent, guardian or approved care organisation. Must have a dependent child aged under 19 or qualifying dependent full-time student aged 16-19. The child also needs to meet immunisation requirements and Healthy Start for School requirements, (dependent must not be in receipt of Centrelink payments and the child or student's income must be less than a certain amount) |
|                           | May also include Newborn Upfront & Newborn supplement, Multiple Birth Allowance, Rent Assistance and Health Care Card  |
| Family Tax Benefit Part B | Not subject to assets test   |
|                           | For two parent families, the higher income earner can earn $120,007 or less per annum. If so, the lower income earner can earn up to $6,935 per annum before the maximum rate reduces by 20 cents for each dollar of income earned over $6,935.   |
|                           | Partnered parent or partnered carer families may get FTB Part B if there is one main income and care for a dependent child, and if the youngest child is younger than 13.  |
|                           | For single parent families, up to $120,007 per annum can be earned to receive maximum rate. If income is over $120,007 FTB part b is not payable.  |
|                           | For single parent families or a grandparent carer and care for a dependent, you can get FTB Part B up until the end of the calendar year your youngest child turns 18. If this child is between 16 and 18, they must meet study requirements.  |

|                    | Family must have either a dependent chfull-time student up to age 18 who is not | nild under age 16 or qualifying dependentt in receipt of Centrelink payments   |  |  |

Centrelink means testing: the income and assets tests

Centrelink determines eligibility for benefits by assessment of income and assets against preset figures. To keep up to date with the rising costs and values of assets, these figures are indexed on a quarterly basis. The figures used in this document are valid as at 1 July 2025.

Should you have received this after this time period, the following figures may be slightly different and will not give you an accurate depiction of your entitlements. It is therefore strongly advised that you contact your Centrelink officer, Financial Planner, or go to www.centrelink.gov.au and follow the links.
